Medical Complications

Rush's Flyin' Taz Mania is all clear for 29 genetic conditions that could impact his early vet visits.

29 0 0
Clear Notable At Risk

We worked with veterinarians to develop tests for conditions that most affect early care, such as drug sensitivity, immune deficiency, and bleeding disorders.

Some things to keep in mind:

Our ability to report on risks affecting your dog is only as advanced as the science — which is ever progressing. Make sure to check back again every now and then to find out if new discoveries could help inform you about your dog's health.

Also, genetics is only one factor in a dog's health, so be sure to give your dog appropriate food and enough exercise.
